

Class of 1949 Luncheon

Members of the second-ever graduating class from UBC Law gathered at the Shaughnessey Golf Club on September 13th to mark 58 years since they received their law degrees. Classmates toasted the Queen and shared memories from their storied lives and fascinating careers. From reminiscing about taking Canada's first DC3 from Petawawa to laughing about the frustration of using dictaphones early in their career to remembering their classmates who were unable to attend, all thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to reconnect.

