SOCIAL IDENTITIES - JOURNAL FOR THE STUDY OF RACE, NATION AND CULTURE

Papers are sought for a special issue on the theme of Law's Empire, to in 2006, under the guest editorship of Rob McQueen and W. Wesley Pue.

Law's Empire: This special issue is dedicated to exploring the relations between all aspects of social and legal identities and "Law's Empire": scholars of culture, humanities and social sciences have increasingly come to an appreciation of the importance of the legal domain in social life, while critically engaged socio-legal scholars around the world have taken up the task of understanding "Law's Empire" in all of its cultural, political, and economic dimensions. The questions arising from these intersections, and addressing imperialisms past and present forms the subject matter of this symposium issue.

Background: The central problematique of this issue has previously been explored through the 2005 Law's Empire conference, an informal but vibrant postcolonial legal studies network (http://faculty.law.ubc.ca/Pue/pocolsprogramme.htm), in publications of Melbourne University's Postcolonial Studies Institute and the University of British Columbia Press' Law & Society books and through special issues of Law Text Culture, Law in Context and The Journal of Social Justice and Global Development (http://www2.warwick.ac.uk/fac/soc/law/elj/lgd/2003_1/).

The Journal, published by the Routledge,Taylor and Francis Group in the United Kingdom, Social Identities is edited by Pal Ahluwalia, Department of Politics, Goldsmiths College, University of London, UK and Toby Miller, Professor of English, Sociology, and Women's Studies, University of California, USA. The journal's International Editorial Advisor Board includes distinguished scholars from many disciplines and from all 6 continents. [http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/boards/csid-edbrd.asp]
